A Pennsic XXXIIIIX (39) Remembrance from Mairghread ni Stilbheard uu Coinn

At Summer's End, I was asked what my best moment at Pennsic XXXIIIIX (39) was and one memory crystallized out of my many high moments.

As it happened, I was retaining for His Majesty, Malcolm, on the battlefield while He was marshalling a tournament.
It was mid-day and brutally hot with not a cloud in the fierce, blue Pennsic sky.
Although the tournament raged on with action from one end of the field to the other (as it seemed endlessly), in the end, Aethelmearc narrowly missed winning. Our King then sought out every fighter still on the field who had fought for Aethelmearc and very personally thanked them for their valiant efforts despite our loss.

As he passed the Royalty diaz for our Allies, he stopped to greet two members of the Royalty. One prostrated herself on the floor, and His Majesty graciously remarked "Please...." so that she would rise (I assumed) and not continue in this act of homage.

We then proceeded off the battlefield from the far end. His Majesty was clearly feeling the effects of the heat and the long morning efforts. As we approached Battle Road, we passed a dark-colored tent with a "Lost and Found" sign. A couple steps beyond it, His Majesty did an about face. As I rushed to keep up with him, he entered the stifling heat of the tent. He commenced to greet the adolescent male who alone in the heat of the day was manning the "Lost and Found". He asked his name and very sincerely thanked this young man for his service to Aethelmearc.

What can I say but my heart swelled with pride! This is why I believe Malcolm is a great King. This humble act of kindness to the future of our Kingdom and Society was most likely witnessed by no one but me. This is why I am proud of Aethelmearc and will always treasure this experience. Vivat!
