Barony business meeting minutes December 20 2011

Exchequer – Alina: we have 4073.40 in checking, 3487.56 in savings; we will be changing the banking accounts due to the SCA NY Incorporation announcement. Some discussion ensued about the time frame and whether this would impact reservations for College of 3 Ravens and if there will be an overlap period. The other question that came up was who would be ordering the new checks for the Barony (Alina or Renee). Alina said she would ask the questions but felt that C3R was not going to be a problem as she didn't think the changeover would occur by then. Alina also noted that there is still a check outstanding for the NMS fee for Baronial Champs. She is pursuing that with the Kingdom NMS deputy and the Kingdom Exchequer.

Web Minister – Eric: web site is up-to-date, especially the calendar. Carlo has asked Eric to review the Baronial chirurgeon website for compliance. Eric also asked when his term was up and we noted that the Web Minister was not listed in the term limit portion of the policies, so this will be taken up at the next curia with Eric providing his suggested turnover date.

Arts & Sciences – adren: Arts and sciences are going along in the Barony. She still needs a deputy. Middle Eastern dance and drum on hiatus for the holidays, as well as English Country dance. Discussions have started on making the Threadworkers an official guild of the Barony.

Minister of Lists – Matilda: got nothing to report

Chronicler – Padraig: Fewmet is coming out; already has an article for January and has figured out how to get pictures in so anyone who wants to contribute pictures to the newsletter please contact him.

Fencing – Padriag: next two weeks on break due to the Rec Center being closed; approx. 3-4 people on a regular basis.

Seneschal – Orianna: attended curia at Rhydderich Hael Investiture (it was very long). Next curia is being held at Deadly Feast event in Delftwood in February.

Their Excellencies Aquila and Bronwyn – could not attend due to Sabrina's winter concert. We attended the Rhydderich Hael Investiture and had a wonderful time. Many Thescorreans held a prominent role. Nivah and Maighraed cooked feast and their Excellencies of Rhydderich Hael were very appreciative. Edmund received his Alce. Venetia received her AoA. Bronwyn MOL'd the Heavy tournament outside in the snow. We are unable to make Kingdom 12th night. We are making preparations for 3 Ravens and are still receiving recommendations for Baronial awards.

Old business – Orianna noted that 4 officers needed to be approved by the Barony. It was suggested that the names of those who applied for the office be announced and a group approval be made (since there was only one applicant for each office): Seneschal – Genevotte; Archery Captain – Edmund; Raven's Tongue Pursuivant – Elzbieta; Chronicler – Padraig requested a second term. All approved by general acclaim.

Genevotte – Domesday: still looking for updates, pictures, and heraldry. Would like to have it complete for College of 3 Ravens.

College of 3 Ravens – Eric: we have an event coming in 6 weeks and 4 days. We have a couple of reservations already as well as ~10 classes. More information will be forthcoming at the next business meeting. Elzbieta reviewed her plans for the feast.

Meeting ended as Orianna had to finish reviewing the classrooms for C3R and go get her daughter.

HRAFNAR (RAVENS)

I have been fascinated by ravens since I was a boy. I watched crows, and I read of their cousins, the ravens. Tales of ravens, such as Hugin and Munin, are part of what drew me to Norse mythology and, eventually, to the sagas and poetry. The Norse had a fascination with the ravens and their eerie behavior when scavenging. The kennings list at the Skaldic Poetry of the Scandinavian Middle Ages website shows no fewer than 125 different kennings for ravens.

A few years ago, I read Mind of the Raven: Investigations and Adventures with Wolf-Birds, by Bernd Heinrich, a fascinating book which discusses the intelligence of the birds. Recently, I came across a web posting: http://www.sciencedaily.com/releases/2011/11/111129112319.htm?utm_source=feedburner&utm_medium=feed&utm_campaign=Feed:+sciencedaily+%28ScienceDaily:+Latest+Science+News%29&utm_content=Google+Reader on the same subject. In the article, the authors discuss the sophisticated communications system of ravens:

“[R]avens use their beaks similar to hands to show and offer objects such as moss, stones and twigs. These distinct gestures were predominantly aimed at partners of the opposite sex and resulted in frequent orientation of recipients to the object and the signalers. Subsequently, the ravens interacted with each other, for example, by example billing or joint manipulation of the object. Ravens in particular can be characterized by complex intra-pair communication, relatively long-time periods to form bonds and a relatively high degree of cooperation between partners.”

It is this highly developed communications strategy that helped inspire this verse describing a pair of ravens viewing a battlefield. The third verse features enjambment, in which the second syntactic unit (sentence) is inserted within the first. The second unit is marked off by parentheses. I hope you will enjoy the poem!

Ravens only hear
cairn-talk horrid;
bandying secrets baleful
sea-gulls huddle of wounds.
swoop silently blood
